Scalable Communications

Effective communications needs a scalable approach. Whether in a personal meeting with a potential investor, a television-interview or a public speech at a conference, the content and form of your messages must be effective in all situations that matter to your organization.

Scalable Life Sciences applies this scalable and effective approach to deliver maximum results for its clients. This effectiveness is based on an optimal reinforcement of your corporate communication and - for example - your investor relations or governmental affairs.

Expertise Built on Experience

Scalable Life Sciences is a young company based on a unique combination of more than twenty years of experience in communications and public affairs and almost fifteen years in life sciences. Its CEO, Rob Janssen, gained extensive experience working for several companies, organizations, and as president of the Dutch biotechnology trade association Niaba. Mr. Janssen is member of, or advisor to, several Dutch and European organizations in business, science, technology, communication, lobbying, political institutions and government.

Consultancy and Execution

We offer companies and other organizations consultancy, interim management, training and execution in these areas:

- Corporate communications
- Public affairs / governmental affairs / market access
- Investor relations
- Marketing communications.

Selected and Specialized Partners

Scalable collaborates nationally and internationally with a group of carefully selected specialists for services and products like websites, electronic communication, printing, audio / video production, events, etc.
